

Respect

By Bernard

First of all, I would like to explain the word 'respect'. If someone says respect, what does that person mean? Well, to my opinion I will say respect is talking to your elderly in a polite way. So if we put our concern to respect, here in The Netherlands and in Ghana, there will be a big difference.

Because back in Ghana you can't talk to an elderly man or woman anyhow or anyway you want. For example: you can't speak to an elderly person without using the word "please". But here in The Netherlands you have your freedom so you can do or say whatever you want or like. In Ghana, if you see an elderly person with a lot of things carrying on him or her, you can't walk by and just pass her or him. Weather you know him or her or not, you have to help. But here in The Netherlands it is a whole different story. So there is no respect in this country.
